

New Indoor Golf Experience Opens at Campus No. 124

The entertainment offerings at Campus No. 124 just moved up a notch. Putter Up, an indoor high-tech mini-golf experience, officially opened in late June and has already drawn enthusiastic crowds from Pelham and beyond. With air-conditioned comfort, interactive gameplay, and Instagram-worthy vibes, it's the perfect way to beat the summer heat.

Putter Up is the newest addition to Campus No. 124, an 82,000-square-foot redevelopment of the former Valley Elementary School. As a designated Pelham Entertainment District, Campus No. 124 lets visitors enjoy beverages from on-site establishments, such as The Beer Hog and Half Shell Oyster House, throughout the property. It's an ideal spot for a unique date night—grab dinner, play a round of golf, and unwind with games at Valhalla Board Game Café or Poppa G's Billiards. You can even take a nature stroll at nearby Park 124.

Swing by and check it out—Putter Up is raising the bar for fun in Pelham.

FROM BANK TO BITES

Meat-and-three fans, rejoice! A new dining option is on the way for those who love hearty, home-style cooking. Construction is underway to transform a former Wells Fargo branch on Pelham Parkway into a Valero gas station with a Mama's Country Cooking & Grill inside.

The drive-through will be repurposed for food pickup. Mama's has other metro Birmingham locations, including one inside an Exxon on Messer Airport Highway. The restaurant serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner with a menu that includes meat-and-three plates, fried chicken, sandwiches, and handmade burgers.

For now, the Wells Fargo ATM located in the drive-through remains operational.

Here's a look at the ongoing construction at the commercial development adjacent to the Pelham Public Library. On the left, Edgar's Bakery is taking shape, and on the right, Waldo's Chicken and Beer is nearing completion.
